Moorfields Lodge

At Moorfields Lodge, our expert team are experienced in supporting a range of needs and conditions, including autism, learning disabilities, epilepsy, and non-verbal communication.

Our detached, four-bed home benefits from private bedrooms, which we encourage the people we support to personalise and make their own. We have extensive communal spaces, including three living areas, a kitchen, and two conservatories that have been converted into a dining room and a dedicated activity area.

Outside, we have two private gardens that offer plenty of space for socialising. Conveniently located on the Yorkshire moors, our gardens are serene, low stimulus spaces for those who benefit from sensory regulating settings.

A place to call home

Situated in the welcoming village of Haworth, our semi-rural setting is well equipped for active, everyday living. A range of essential amenities and opportunities in the local community are within a short walk and local bus routes keep us well connected to the wider community. We regularly access the local pub, cafes, shops, and leisure facilities.

Our team are devoted to empowering independence and wellbeing. We're accredited by the National Autistic Society. Benefitting from specialist autism training, we ensure we effectively support the unique needs of each individual, supporting them to develop important social skills and empowering them to live with independence.
